

"Received the safe today, thanks for the excellent service.

After placing my order I received a call from one of your employees asking where I'd seen the safe advertised as there had recently been many requests for the item, I explained that a product write up in "Motorcaravan Motorhome Monthly" had described the item in detail.

This was perfect for our Motorhome. I'd been looking for a suitable safe for some time but other products were either too large/heavy or too difficult to secure in place.

For your information my motorhome is based on a Fiat base vehicle, (probably 70% of the M/home market) with raised front swivel seats, underneath the passenger seat is the ideal location, it is out of sight, the lid will open fully giving easy access but at the same time making it very difficult to try and break in or steal and with the bonus that both securing cables can be used these being secured through the metal steel side plates of the seat base. Also, I, like many other owners store the 25m electric hook-up cable in this space and with the safe in situ the electric cable still goes in.

I thought that maybe this information could be of use in any future marketing aimed directly at the M/home users."
